FEAR POLITICS WILL PREVENT FLOOD RELIEF

Coolidge Believes Disputes Would Stop Action at Special Session

DEPEND ON U. S. AGENCIES

Louisiana Wants All Other Issues Sidetracked to Help Residents

Washington—President Coolidge remains unconvinced that an extra session of congress is necessary to deal with the flood situation. Senator Robinson, Democratic leader, tried to persuade him to ask the members of two congressional committees to meet in advance of December and begin to formulate a program but the president felt that this was a matter for the committee members themselves to decide.

There meets in Chicago this week a convention of business and industrial leaders as well as members of the delegations in congress who come from the flooded area. The purpose of the convention is to develop public sentiment for relief plans. The Louisiana delegation wants an extra session of congress called and is willing to ask leaders of all parties to agree that nothing else should be discussed but flood relief measures. Whether the leaders could bind individual members remains doubtful but the proposal emphasizes that the chief difficulty about calling an extra session is that other subjects may be introduced for debate which would interfere with prompt action on the flood measures.

AFRAID OF POLITICS

Politics, of course, creep into the problems from all sides. The Republican majority in the senate is slender. The moment the senate met it would be confronted with the question of seating or unseating Messrs. Vane of Pennsylvania, and Smith of Illinois. The insurgent Republicans are aching for a chance to turn their firework against the administration. The question of flood relief and foreign policy. The administration can think of a dozen reasons why the calling of an extra session would be embarrassing, but those who are concerned with flood relief can think of many more reasons why the emergency in the Mississippi valley should transcend all political considerations and bring insurgents and regulars out of their political atmosphere for the earnest consideration of relief measures.

The president, meanwhile, is asking every agency of the executive branch of the government, the army, the navy, the treasury, the department of agriculture, to cooperate in every way with the people in the flood area through the extension of credits and otherwise.

DOUBTS VALUE OF ACTION

He doubts whether any action could be taken by congress at this time that could bring further aid. The question of flood relief is so large that it will take many weeks to debate and the administration hopes to be ready with a flood program when congress does convene.

ONTARIO NOW IS "WET" AND COPS NAB 6 DRUNKS

Toronto, Ont.—(AP)—Six cases of drunkenness and one of alleged illegal possession of liquor were on police books in Toronto Thursday after government sale of liquor had been in force one day. The arrest of Michael C. Kelly, horse owner and trainer of Washington, D. C., on a charge of possession of liquor without a permit was the first made under the new law which became effective Wednesday. Kelly was held in $250 bail. He said the liquor had been given him by a friend.

Members of all classes of society were noticed in the lines that formed outside the six stores in Toronto. The government permits necessary for purchases allowed Ontario residents two cases of liquor or beer and tourists one. Permits are sold at $2.

Stores have been open in about a dozen cities of the province. Others will be established as the demand requires. No figures were available on the volume of sales.

CHICAGO ASKS DISMISSAL OF DIVERSION SUIT

Alleges Whole Matter Involves Interests of Hydro-Electric Power

Washington—(AP)—The Chicago Sanitary district requested Thursday that the suit brought against it by Great Lakes states to restrain it from withdrawing water from Lake Michigan, be dismissed on the ground that the states' action was in the name of states and navigation, it was really in the interest of hydro-electric power.

The request was made in a brief presented by H. S. Johnson of Chicago, at a hearing before Charles E. Hughes, special master of the court. The brief also declared that the suit was "in no just sense" one between states, but in reality "a controversy between economic areas whose hearings are 'all political' and whose solution belongs to congress and not to a court."

The whole matter involved negotiations with a foreign country, Johnson said, and the suit was calculated to hinder such action and in general to interfere with a solution of the question in the interest of the nation as a whole by the executive and legislative department charged with the matter.

BEGIN MEETING FOR FLOOD RELIEF WORK

Mayor Thompson Expects 25,000 to Attend Conference in Chicago

Chicago—(AP)—A great committee on ways and means sat here Thursday to work out disciplinary measures for "old Mississippi," the nation's geographic incognito.

From the headwaters of the stream they came, from the mouth and from the tributaries. The government itself and the 27 Mississippi valley states were represented, cabinet officers, senators, congressmen and governors uniting with engineers, bankers, manufacturers and farmers in the common purpose of flood control.

Mayor William Hale Thompson of Chicago, who sponsored the flood control conference in cooperation with Mayor O'Keefe of New Orleans, and Mayor of St. Louis, said Wednesday night in an address that original plans to entertain 2,500 delegates had to be changed to accommodate 25,000. The purpose, as Mayor Thompson explained, is "to lay out some sort of plan to cure the situation which is a continuing menace to the Mississippi valley and a reproach to the nation."

PROF WHO WORKED IN HIS BED 40 YEARS IS DEAD

Hartford, Conn.—(AP)—For 40 years Prof. C. H. Young lived and worked in bed, surrounded by servants of his travels and studies, and of the woman's suffrage movement in which cause he had labored. Monday he was taken to the hospital where he died of pneumonia which had long held him prisoner. He was 74 years old.

Professor Young was conversant with 12 languages and 8 dialects. His incarceration was devoted to teaching these and to writing. He was a pioneer in the woman's suffrage movement and did much writing on the subject. For many years he was a regular contributor to the "letter boxes" of newspapers, using the pen name "Closed Visor" in token of his shut-in state.

WASHINGTON IS EAGER

Washington—(AP)—A nation, eager to reward uncommon skill and valor, looked forward Thursday to June 11, when Captain Charles A. Lindbergh, arriving aboard the cruiser Memphis, is to be welcomed by his own people, personified by their president.

Although the night and there was peace. Thirty alleged members of the mob were under arrest Thursday morning awaiting action by a grand jury.

The special officers, sworn in at a mass meeting of citizens Wednesday, augmented a detachment of 500 men, finally approved by the senate, to the scene shortly after the trouble started Sunday night.

Throughout the "rioting," the object of the mob's wrath, B. F. Levis, who had confessed he killed Herman Morrell, his wife and three children, thought of his wife and family who had done him a "dirty trick," was safe from their fury, imprisoned in another county, officers announced. Arrest of J. R. "Slim" Hudson, 45, a sign painter, implicated by Levis in the slayings, was announced Wednesday.

RUSH FOOD SUPPLIES TO LOUISIANA FLOOD ZONE

WANTS TO GO HOME

London—(AP)—A Captain Lindbergh was completing arrangements Thursday for his return to the United States after two strenuous weeks as a public hero here there was no mistaking his eagerness to be home.

He was particularly elated over the rapidity with which the cruiser Memphis will make the journey, leaving Chicago on Saturday morning and going up the Potomac river a week later, he would experience a speed sensation some what akin to flying.

Now that he has met kings, presidents and scores of diplomats and prominent personages in France, Belgium and England, he is pleased with the prospect of being received by President Coolidge.

He expressed his pleasure over the fact that his "bus" the Spirit of St. Louis, would be in the Memphis with him.

American residents in London, with British personages as their guests paid tribute to Lindbergh at a banquet at the Savoy Wednesday night. It was another praise festival. Bidding goodbye to the British people, Lindbergh declared he was looking forward to another visit to the country.

He took occasion to honor the memory of Wilbur Wright and St. Joan Alcock and Louis Elmerio, saying that they had all had a part in making possible his flight across the ocean.

PARIS AWAITS RETURN

Paris—(AP)—Captain Lindbergh, or "Land Bear," as the French pronounce his name again took the center of the Parisian stage Thursday. The newspapers were full of details of his return to France from England, scheduled for Thursday evening, and the arrangements for his departure for home on the cruiser Memphis Saturday.

SENATOR MORRIS CAN'T APPEAR IN APPLETON

Senator George W. Norris of Nebraska will be unable to come to Appleton to be the principal speaker at a memorial service on the birthday anniversary of the late Senator R. M. La Follette, June 14, according to Samuel Seaman, secretary of the Farmer-Labor Progressive League of Outagamie county.

The organization through its executive committee, will sponsor the program. The committee will secure another prominent speaker.

Oklahoma City, Okla.—(AP)—Reports from central Oklahoma Thursday indicated heavy property damage caused Wednesday night by a tornado, high winds and rain and hail. Although a score of homes were leveled at Stratford and buildings were damaged at Okmulgee and other points by wind and hail, no casualties were reported.

Fuller Names Committee To Probe Vanzetti Case

Boston—(AP)—The internationally celebrated case of Nicola Sacco and Bartolomeo Vanzetti swung onto new ground Thursday with the appointment by Governor Alvan T. Fuller of a commission to aid him in review of the long litigation surrounding the conviction and sentence to death of the admitted radicals as slayers.

A. Lawrence M. Lowell, president of Harvard university, Robert Grant, formerly a judge of the probate court and a novelist, and Samuel W. Statton, president of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, comprise the advisory committee.

They will sit independently of the governor, who for several weeks has devoted part of his time to his own review of the proceedings.

Governor Fuller's announcement was his first intimation of his method of handling the case since his first undertaking consideration of the evidence on the plea of Vanzetti who, in a 10,000 word petition on behalf of himself and Sacco called for "justice" and exonerated.

Both are under sentence to die during the week of July 10 for the murder of a South Braintree paymaster and his guard more than seven years ago. Because of the shortness of time between the appointment of the advisory committee which must consider a mountainous mass of evidence and the date set for the executions, there were suggestions Thursday that the governor might defer the date.

TAMPA QUIET AFTER RIOTING AT JAIL

"Siege" Ends After Five Are Killed and Score Wounded—Thirty Are Arrested

Tampa, Fla.—(AP)—Tampa was quiet Thursday morning. Apparently the "siege of Hillsborough county jail" was at an end. After three nights of rioting, which took a toll of five killed and more than a score wounded as mobs of infuriated civilians sought to enter the jail to take a confessed murderer, a 9 o'clock curfew throughout the city ended the night and there was peace. Thirty alleged members of the mob were under arrest Thursday morning awaiting action by a grand jury.

The special officers, sworn in at a mass meeting of citizens Wednesday, augmented a detachment of 500 men, finally approved by the senate, to the scene shortly after the trouble started Sunday night.

Throughout the "rioting," the object of the mob's wrath, B. F. Levis, who had confessed he killed Herman Morrell, his wife and three children, thought of his wife and family who had done him a "dirty trick," was safe from their fury, imprisoned in another county, officers announced. Arrest of J. R. "Slim" Hudson, 45, a sign painter, implicated by Levis in the slayings, was announced Wednesday.

Teachers Protest Bill To Abolish Retirement Fund

Madison—(AP)—Scores of Wisconsin school teachers and principals gathered in a school room Wednesday to oppose the Duggitt-Caldwell Senate bill which would in effect abolish the state teachers retirement fund. There was but one person who favored the bill, F. H. Clausen, Horicon, representing the Wisconsin Manufacturers' association.

The crowds of teachers augmented hundreds of names signed to petitions that have been presented to the assembly in the past two weeks, protesting passage of the bill. The senate has approved it and Wednesday's hearing was before the education committee of the lower house.

The bill, by Senator Duggitt and the amendment, by Senator Caldwell, would abolish the surtax by which the state established a "retirement" fund for teachers. Arguments in favor of the bill are that the fund has reached the sufficient to be self-maintaining and arguments against it include the statement that the surtax is still needed to maintain the fund.

Mr. Clausen's argument that the surtax should be removed and the tax for the state's portion of the retirement fund should be distributed and equalized in its upkeep, were attacked by S. M. B. Olbrich, Madison attorney, and member of the state university board of regents, Mrs. Meta Berger, Milwaukee, and Assemblyman Baumann, Milwaukee.

Others appearing against the bill besides the scores of teachers who would have been heard had time permitted, were: Mrs. Blanch McCarthy, Appleton; S. B. Tobey, Thomas Goshline, Madison; J. D. Wichmann, secretary of the University Retirement association; J. A. Merrill, Superior, member of the normal school retirement fund board; William T. Hannan, representing the Milwaukee Teachers' association, and Miss Elizabeth McCormick.

MEASURE NOW REQUIRES O. K. OF GOVERNOR

Lower House Will Reconsider Bill on State Bar Examination Next Week

Madison—(AP)—If Governor Zimmerman signs the Polakowski bill, operators of motor cars in Wisconsin will have to carry driver's licenses. The bill by Senator Walter Polakowski, Milwaukee, sets new provisions in the statutes whereby operators of motor vehicles must pass tests before they are allowed to drive and may lose their licenses for certain violations of the motor vehicle laws.

It was passed by the senate some time ago. The assembly at first refused to reconsider the non-concurrent resolution Thursday, 71 to 5 and the bill was carried over to 66 to 11.

RECONSIDER BAR BILL
On ruling from the chair, adversely to Assemblyman Schmieg's point of order, the bill compelling the point of Wisconsin law students to take the state bar examination was scheduled for reconsideration next Wednesday. It was previously killed by a tie vote. Assemblyman Gagner moved its reconsideration Thursday. Mr. Schmieg's point of order was that because of the tie vote the reconsideration motion was not allowable. The speaker overruled him, however.

Assemblyman Duncan's bill for limiting county normal schools to the present number, 31, which had previously been refused passage, was reconsidered, several amendments were dropped from it and it was ordered engrossed, indicating that it probably will be finally approved by the lower house. One of the amendments would discontinue the county normal school at Eau Claire.

The Peterson bill for interim committee to investigate possible anti-trust law violation by chain store systems of the state, was ordered engrossed without argument.

VEOTES TWO BILLS

Governor Zimmerman Thursday sent to the assembly two vetoes. He killed the McDowell bill, allowing fishing with "shot" nets, in the Mississippi river, and the Wildlife bill appropriating $5,000 this and next year to the state board of medical examiners, for prosecution of "quacks."

Use of the shutout net, he said, "means that a large number of game fish will be caught with the rough fish and sea urchins which are taken in violation of the law. The appropriation was not approved, according to the governor because it is 'unnecessary'."

"It is not pointed out in what particular or why this should be presently necessary," Governor Zimmerman's message said. "No similar provision has been made in recent years. In order for such an appropriation to be approved some specific evidence of its present need, some evidence of change in conditions, should be presented before such expenditure is justified. This is especially true when every effort is being made to cut down state expenditures."

UP TO COUNTIES

The message then pointed out that counties "go to considerable expense to hire prosecutors that are ultimately responsible for enforcement of the laws" and that "a little cooperation from local practitioners, calling the attention of local prosecutors to the law violators will do more to secure results at less expense than several investigators can accomplish by traveling over the state seeking information in communities where they are strangers."

The governor suggested that if district attorneys fail to cooperate with licensed doctors in investigating the fake doctors and violators of the public health laws the district attorneys should be complained against.

WITNESS SAYS KING BEN HAD WOMAN'S DRESS HANDY

St. Joseph, Mich.—(AP)—Benjamin Farnell, head of the House of David, was prepared to flee from the law disguised in a "mother husband" gown and a red wig. Esther Hunsel testified Thursday in the state's receivership suit against the colony. She said Benjamin purchased the wig for use "in case of emergency." The "mother husband" and a corset were borrowed from a woman colonist, according to the witness.

The witness repeated her story of a boat trip when she charged Farnell accompanied a score or more girls who slept under canvas wagons covered by the roof of the high bench to show cause why he should not be restrained from further action in the case and his writ of habeas corpus by which Rubin was released be quashed.

STATE SUPREME COURT HEARS RUBIN ARGUMENTS

Madison—(AP)—The state supreme court Thursday heard arguments of Milwaukee attorneys in the matter of release of William E. Rubin, attorney, who was sentenced to 50 days in jail for contempt of court in connection with the "ambulance chasing" cases.

The hearing was upon a demurrer of Circuit Court Judge Otto Broderick, to an order of the high bench to show cause why he should not be restrained from further action in the case and his writ of habeas corpus by which Rubin was released be quashed.

4,000 MARINES GUARD LIFE IN DANGER REGION

Fear of Emergency in Collapse of Northern Army Cause of Action

TROOPS READY TO ACT
American Commanders Given Power to Move Forces at Their Discretion

Washington—(AP)—Seven American naval vessels in southern Chinese waters have sailed for the Chaofoo on the Gulf of Chihli, near Tientsin, presumably to be nearer the zone of operations of the contending Chinese factions.

The movement of the ships coincides with the transfer of large forces which has been picked as a concentration point for American residents of China in case of disturbances following the retreat of the northern Chinese armies. Four destroyers are included in the group, the Paul Jones, the Most, the William B. Preston and the Pruitt. They left Shanghai May 31.

The airplane tender Jason also has left Shanghai for Northern Chinese waters, and the mine sweeper Bittern, and the Oil tanker, Peconic are enroute to the concentration point.

4,000 OR 5,000 MARINES
Fear that an emergency might be caused by the collapse of the northern Chinese army south of the Yellow river, has led American naval authorities to order 4,000 or 5,000 marines to Tientsin where large numbers of Americans and other foreigners are concentrating.

Movement of the marines from Shanghai and the Philippines which has been in progress for several days, has been reported to Washington and is logical development is expected to be the transfer of the American legation from Peking to Tientsin or the carrying out of the proposed strengthening of the Peking guard by 2,000 additional troops.

The state department has said that such a disposition is made of the marines is up to Admiral Williams, commanding naval forces in Chinese waters, and Brig. General Butler, marine commander in China, who have been empowered by the government to use their discretion in moving troops.

Serious trouble in the regions where the northern army is in retreat is not expected since few Americans remain in north China.

CORN AGAIN IS KING OF U. S. GRAIN MARKET

Chicago—(AP)—King corn has stepped to the front in the grain markets of the country. The golden product of the midwest has moved well above a dollar a bushel in a wild bull market, induced largely by unfavorable crop reports.

Incidentally, the rise has fulfilled the prediction of an International Harvester company spokesman that the midwest's golden corn would reach a dollar a bushel, made last year at a time when it offered to exchange farm implements on the basis of dollar corn, although the corn then was in the doldrums, far below that figure.

Corn advanced here Wednesday to the highest level in two years, July 1925, 90 cents, to $1.04½, and was a fraction under that price at the close, while September touched $1.07½, and virtually closed there. Since April 16 the price has risen almost 30 cents.

BROTHER AND SISTER ARE HEIRS TO MILLION

Chicago—(AP)—James A. Burns of Fond du Lac, and Mrs. Mary Martin, Nashville, Tenn., will each receive $500,000 under the will of C. Burns, 62, an inventor of electrical and mechanical devices, who died recently. The heirs are his brother and sister. The will was filed in probate court Thursday.

We have been doing considerable talking about the Latex-treated Web Cord and Sprayed Rubber used in United States Royal Cord Balloons—and the Flat Tread principle.

The reason we've said so much is that it's the real goods—not just bunk.

We know you'll be interested if you care anything about getting good tires.

So drop in any time and learn the details. It will be worth your while.

The modern Perfection
Oil Stove cooks merrily
away while you do other things

Put your roast or cake into the Perfection Oven, your vegetables on to boil. Set the flames high or low, to suit your cooking needs. They will not "creep up." You can trust them to remain as you set them, while you work in the garden, finish a dress, or do other things.

When you touch a match to the wick, cooking begins. A solid column of clean heat is driven full force right to the cooking.

Intense heat covers the entire cooking surface of the utensils. That's why food is always so thoroughly cooked on the Perfection Stove—and not just in spots.

Mrs. DeGraf Says—
"The steadiness of the Perfection flame aids good cooking. You are certain of good results."

SOCIETY

HALF OF COST OF
PLAYGROUND WORK

Proposed Recreation Program
Is Outlined to Council
Wednesday Night

Neenah—The city will shoulder half the expense of conducting summer athletic activities in local parks, the city council decided Wednesday evening, providing total expenditures do not exceed $500.

The proposed recreation program was outlined to the council by Carl Gerhardt, secretary of the Neenah chapter of the Red Cross. He also reviewed last summer's activities.

A salary increase of $25 a month was granted the city clerk by a 6 to 4 vote. The money will be charged back to the water works commission, for who he also will serve as clerk. Passage of the registration law over the veto of the governor will increase by 25 per cent the work of the clerk, it was said.

Widening of Doty-ave from Church to Walnut-sts was referred to the board of public works, and plans and specifications were ordered prepared. Specifications also will be prepared for paving the north end of Church-st from Wisconsin-ave to the canal. Ald. Laursen objected to widening Doty-ave from Commercial-st to Walnut-st on account of the grade of the road. If the street is improved, it will be far above the adjoining property and walks, it was pointed out.

Ald. Laursen introduced a resolution proposing that property owners pay for street sweeping, similar to the policy followed in other streets. Many property owners on other streets are compelled to help pay for the sweeping through general taxation, although they are not benefited, he claimed. Questions of paying for work also were raised. No action was taken on the resolution.

MUST BUY PROPERTY

The city will have to purchase a residence and remove a house in order to clear Maple, Grove and Cherry-sts to extend these streets to the south city limits, it was reported by the board of public works. The mayor and city clerk were authorized to complete the deals.

An ordinance appointing the mayor, city clerk, city treasurer and aldermen Schmidt and Stulp as members of the board of review was adopted. The two aldermen were re-elected. The council approved the mayor's appointment of George Harness as justice of the peace to fill the unexpired term of the late E. W. Thurston. Action of the clerk in receiving money for the upkeep of cemetery lots owned by Fred Rande, H. Jensen, H. Walter, H. Krueger, A. Christensen, H. Christensen, H. Jensen, Mrs. K. Rafter, and J. E. Sanford also was approved. The lot of Harvey Jones, who before his death decided to the city a portion of land at the north end of the cemetery, was ordered taken care of by the city.

A finger print machine for the police department was suggested and the price will be ascertained. A vote of thanks was extended to contractor Fisher, under whose supervision the new bridge and improvement on N. Commercial-st was completed, for his cooperation with the city officials.

Non-intoxicating liquor licenses were granted the Island Drug store and Kenneth Miller. Mr. Miller was also granted permission to conduct a pool hall on W. Wisconsin-ave. Arrangements were made for aldermen to attend the Shobogan convention of the League of Municipalities. The mayor, clerk and attorney and Aldermen Herziger and Martens will attend.

A strip of land was given the city by Miss Edgerton so that a walk on Fairview-ave could be extended. The city will construct the walk in front of the Edgerton lot gratis. It was suggested to conduct a fire run during the bridge dedication exercises but this was opposed for safety reasons. A petition for a sewer on Smith-st was received, reports of the justices and police and poor commissioner were heard, and bills amounting to $23,955.77 were allowed.

Miss Blauski Dalton had her tonsils removed Wednesday at Theda Clark hospital.

A son was born Wednesday at Theda Clark hospital to Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Peterson.

William Campbell, F. J. Schneider, and Philip Reimer attended a meeting of the Wau paca Legion post Wednesday evening. Mr. Schneider was one of the speakers at the entertainment which followed the meeting.

Miss Clara Roemer and Miss Ruby Baldwin attended a party Wednesday evening at the home of Mrs. A. P. Rock in Little Chute.

Mr. and Mrs. S. W. Martz and Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Sanders spent Thursday in Shobogan.

Mrs. Addie Keyes is visiting relatives in Winnetka, N. D. George Keweenaw, of Ellendale, N. D., who has been visiting relatives in the twin cities, returned Wednesday night to his home.

565,000 BOYS AND GIRLS ARE 4-H CLUB MEMBERS IN COUNTRY

U. S. AGRICULTURAL CIRCULAR OUTLINES SCOPE OF ACTIVITY

Each Member Does Substantial Piece of Work for Farm, Home or Community

BY W. F. WINSEY
Special Farm Writer

The magnitude of 4-H club organization and work is shown by the fact that in 1925 there were more than 565,000 rural girls and boys in the United States who were organized into about 41,000 clubs. In many states considerable numbers of boys and girls are enrolled who do demonstration work but are not in local clubs. They report directly to the county extension agent. In the counties of Wisconsin the enrollment in 4-H clubs ranges from none at all to nearly 2,000 with a good average.

The object of 4-H club work, what club work is, what club work does, and the club problem, are discussed in miscellaneous Circular No. 77, United States Department of Agriculture.

TO IMPROVE STANDARDS. "The United States Department of Agriculture and the land-grant colleges are charged, under the Smith-Lever act, and in appropriations to the United States Department of Agriculture with the task of teaching improved practices and standards in agriculture and home economics to the people. The end sought is an efficient agriculture, an adequate food and clothing supply, an enriched country life, and an alert, satisfied, progressive rural people.

"The task placed upon the department and the colleges is essentially an educational one and continuous. It is recognized that when the state has an educational duty to perform it is in accord with good teaching principles to begin with the youth of the country, rather than wait till they reach maturity.

"To this end, boys' and girls' 4-H club work have been organized throughout the United States. This club work constitutes a part of the national extension system, by means of which instruction in agriculture and home economics is given to rural boys and girls by the United States Department of Agriculture, the land grant colleges, and local agencies co-operating. The instruction is given by means of farm, home, and community demonstrations and club activities, carried on by the young people themselves for the purpose (1) of helping country boys and girls to improve rural farm and home practices and the social life of their own communities; (2) of showing them the possibilities of rural life; (3) of aiding those who so desire to become efficient farmers and home makers; and (4) of teaching rural boys and girls how to make of themselves public-spirited, useful citizens and leaders in rural affairs.

EACH MEMBER WORKS

"The outstanding characteristic of 4-H club work is that each member conducts a substantial piece of work, designed to show some better practice on the farm, or in the home or community; keeps a record of results; explains the work to others; and makes a final report on work: growing an acre or more of cotton in accordance with the directions of the agricultural college, raising a sow and a litter of pigs according to instructions, growing fruits and vegetables in accordance with the dietary needs of the family, canning and surplus in the most approved ways and other phases of farm and home work that especially appeal to young people.

"Most of the 4-H clubs are organized as clubs with a president, secretary, and other officers and an adult leader as sponsor. They meet from time to time, conduct their meetings along parliamentary lines, have a program in which the progress of their respective lines is presented and discussed, give demonstrations, sing songs, play games, practice yells, and carry on like matters of interest to young people.

WORK IS VOLUNTARY

"Boys' and girls' club work is voluntary, containing around living things like growing plants or animals, or concerned with the active processes of home-making, farm accounting, or other matters related directly to the daily life of the farm and the farm home. The study of books is incidental and supplemental to the actual planning, growing, harvesting, and marketing of the crop, the raising and marketing of livestock, or the actual preparation of food, making of clothes or the furnishing of a room in the house. The work is conducted out of doors in the fields, the orchards, the barns, or in the home, the creamery, or the market place. The actual growing of the crop in club work or the raising of stock is directed and supervised by some experienced man or woman or older club member who is trained by the extension agent.

"Club members are urged to make an exhibit of the products they have grown at the local, county and state fairs. They are taught how to judge quality in such exhibits. Many are trained in putting on demonstrations and explaining their work to the public.

"The members of the local club come in contact not only with their leaders, who know how to do things, but with the work of one another in which there frequently are rivalry and contest, and with the public in field meetings and in exhibits at fairs, festivals and demonstrations. From time to time they meet with the training teachers and educators of the agricultural colleges and of the federal department of agriculture, with business men and outstanding farmers—all leaders in different lines of work, men and women of capacity and vision."

U. S. CHANGES METHOD IN DAIRY INSPECTION

To Grade Butter and Eggs for Quality and Production Beginning July 1

BY W. F. WINSEY
Special Farm Writer

"Federal dairy products inspectors will be known as official graders and the government inspection certificates on dairy products will be known as official grading certificates, beginning July 1," says the bureau of agriculture in a recent announcement.

The use of inspection certificates will continue until the supply is used up and then the new certificates of quality will be introduced, a chain store organization operating 125 retail stores in the Bay Cities of California and a large butter and egg jobbing firm in Boston are recent applicants for the use of the new certificates and grading offices are now maintained in Boston, New York, Philadelphia, Chicago, Plymouth, Wis., Minneapolis and other cities.

"The change in designation has been made to clarify the work of the department with reference to its various activities relating to dairy and poultry products, and to conform to international terms with respect to grading of these products for quality and condition.

USE QUALITY CERTIFICATES

"The bureau announced that the use of existing inspection certificates will continue until the supply is used up. The new certificates of quality which are used by firms to seal cartons of eggs which are packed from graded lots, and to inclose in cartons of butter which is packed from churnings which have been officially graded, will read substantially as follows:

"This is to certify that the churnings of butter (or lot of eggs) from which the butter (or eggs) contained in this carton was taken were graded by an official grader of the United States Department of Agriculture; that the date of said grading and number of grading certificate are perforated or stamped thereon, and that the quality of butter (or eggs) when inspected was 32 score or higher, (and U. S. No. 1 Extras or better, if eggs).

CREAMERY OWNERS OF WAUPACA-CO IN SPECIAL MEETING

Discuss Advisability of Forming Tri-County Creamery Association

Waupun—A meeting of officers and directors of the cooperative creameries of Waupaca-co was held at Scandinavia Thursday. All the creameries in the county were represented. H. R. Noble, county agent for Portage-co, called the meeting to order and discussed the advisability of forming a creamery unit for Portage, Waupaca and Waushara-cos, and to employ an expert buttermaker, with experience as field man, to work in the interest of all the creameries in this unit. Creamery directors and buttermakers from several creameries of Portage-co were present.

H. F. Sondergaard, dairy specialist who served ten years as field man in Wisconsin and Minnesota creamery districts was present. He assisted in explaining the plan. He showed the advantages of this method of improving the quality of cream delivered and the butter produced through suggestions made by an expert. Creamery men and the people on the dairy farms of the unit would profit by the suggestions, he explained. This organization would require a group of creameries producing 5,000,000 pounds of butter a year, so that the expenses of a field man could be met without too great burden.

The subject of drying butter milk, as a by-product, was presented by C. J. Bestul, secretary of the Scandinavian creamery.

He stated that the cost of a plant had been estimated and was more than one creamery could handle, but that a number of creameries in one locality could build a cooperative Drying Plant, and run it profitably to each creamery.

At the close of the meeting it was suggested that each of the creameries should decide by June 10, 1927, whether they would join the organization and notify H. R. Noble of their decision.

If the reports are favorable a general meeting will be held to organize a permanent district.

Cow Testing Helped Show Value Of Schaefer Herd

BY W. F. WINSEY
Special Farm Writer

According to a report of one of the large cow testing associations of Outagamie-co last season, Henry Schaefer and Sons, route 7, operated one of the most successful dairies in this vicinity and the sale of dairy products indicates the firm is doing equally well this season.

Last season these dairymen made the highest production record for herds the size of theirs in the cow testing association to which they belonged. The Schaefer herd had 12 good cows but suspected that the herd contained a few undesirable cows, the best paying cow on a basis of production. To get facts and a basis of individual comparison of cows they joined the association. And strange to say, the tester found no low producers in the herd but Math Schaefer says the cow tester taught him that one cannot grade cows on a basis of production by shape, weight and color without testing milk for butterfat content. Without the work of the tester, the poorest paying cow in a herd of owners in a large quantity of milk and the best paying cow on a basis of production her value. As there were no big milk, non-productive cows in the Schaefer herd, all the tester did was to grade the cows on the basis of milk and butterfat production. But Math Schaefer says the owners got some big surprises in this grading.

HAS EXCEPTIONAL RECORD

The total milk production of the Schaefer herd for the year under test was 218,658.4 pounds of milk on test basis over 1,000,000 pounds of milk for the three years. The average per cow during November of the year of the test was 1,257 pounds of milk, 51 pounds of butterfat, test 3.7; for December, 1,235 pounds of milk, 47 pounds of butterfat, test 4.7 per cent; for January, 1,278 pounds of milk, 45 pounds of butterfat, test 3.6; for February, 1,233 pounds of milk, 45 pounds of butterfat, test 4.5.

The record made by a few of the individual cows during the year's test is as follows: cow No. 6 produced 15,260 pounds of milk, 529.9 pounds of butterfat, test 3.6; cow No. 10, 15,354 pounds of milk, 581.6 pounds of butterfat, test 3.7; No. 12, 15,930 pounds of milk, 577 pounds of butterfat, test 3.6; No. 16, 15,920 pounds of milk, 571.8 pounds of milk, test 4.25; No. 3, 12,565 pounds of milk, 475 pounds of butterfat, test 3.86; No. 22, 12,990 pounds of milk, 481.6 pounds of butterfat, test 3.71. The lowest cow in the herd made 5,580 pounds of milk, and 337 pounds of butterfat. Fourteen cows in the herd produced over 450 pounds of butterfat during the year. The herd average was 11,738 pounds of milk, 419.2 pounds of fat, test 3.63.

NOT IN ASSOCIATION

This year the Schaefer herd do not belong to a cow testing association and are now milking their average sized herd but 17 heifers are due to freshen soon. For the past seven months, however, the average daily production of the herd was 878 pounds of milk with a factory test of 3.5 per cent.

No heifers are raised on the Schaefer farm and as the milk is sold to a creamery, calves are fed whole milk until they are five months old. Last year 90 per cent of the calves were sold to dairymen in this vicinity for dairy purposes.

The Schaefer herd gets alfalfa and clover hay and mixed timothy and clover pasture. The milking cows are fed ground oats and barley tailed and prepared on the farm, and bran and oil meal from the market. The firm raised 40 acres of alfalfa last season and 15 acres of red clover. This season the cows will get what they need of 40 acres of red clover and 15 acres of alfalfa.

The foundation of the Schaefer herd of Holsteins was Sir Johanna Flebe II, purchased of R. J. Schaefer. Thirteen six daughters of this animal made the Schaefer herd for the most part what it is. A later bull in this herd was sired by the big Losseloung bull. The present herd sire was produced in the herd of R. J. Schaefer.

Five years ago, when Henry Schaefer and his sons Nic and Math entered into partnership, they started with a herd of 40 animals. The herd has grown since that time to 50 head. The herd was started a number of years before the partnership opened up by the father who always had a eye for a good cow and the best herd sire.

An Illustrated Editorial on Investments

Here (briefed because advertising space in a hundred papers runs into money), is the editorial, entitled "A Notable Change," from the Burlington, Wis., Standard-Democrat:

"A notable change may be seen in the trend of advertising nowadays. Not so many years ago, the really big advertisers were patent medicines and baking powders. Today, financial advertising is featured because the public has more money to invest; wage workers who in the old days barely existed, today have a surplus. Prosperity is general; here is at least a little money everywhere, and the public has the desire to invest. The old day of individual ownership is passing on. Men buy and sell collectively; they invest collectively, to get collective service that no individual could provide. . . .

"The corporations of today are 'our' corporations; we—everybody—finance their building and buy their products from ourselves as owners. 'Public ownership' is here in its ideal form. . . . America was never so truly American as today, with almost every family owning some form of industrial security that pays a profit. It is a safe and sane condition."

Here (in a brief summary of the purchase of $2,000,000 worth of Milwaukee Electric Railway & Light Company's 6% cumulative preferred stock by 3,397 investors), is the illustration of the editorial:

The shares were put on sale Dec. 21, 1926. The issue was sold out on May 16, 1927. Of the 3,397 buyers, 1,279 men and 932 women bought individually; 593 men and 593 women—nearly all married couples—purchased shares in joint ownership.

Milwaukee men and women to the number of 1,599 bought $847,100 of the shares; 1,534 in 190 other Wisconsin cities, towns and villages bought $811,000 of them; men and women in 31 Upper Michigan communities bought $304,300 worth, and scattered in-

BANK ON FOX RIVER

The land between the Oak-st road and the river will be filled in and made wider. In the past a large number of unsightly blocks of concrete and piles of rubbish have been dumped on the shore. The Legion plans to use this for filling in and then covering it over with sufficient soil to permit the growth of vegetation. Those in charge of the work are A. Wagnitz, R. P. Brooks, Herbert Wodjenski and Antone Rieth. The men will work in groups on the project.

CHURCH DISTRICT
GROUPS WILL HOLD
JOINT MEET FRIDAY

Will Arrange Program for Camp-meeting and Convention in August

Special to Post-Crescent

Forest Junction—A joint meeting of the program committees of the camp-meeting association and Christian Endeavor league and Sunday school of the Appleton district, Wisconsin conference of the Evangelical church, has been called to meet here at 1 o'clock Friday afternoon.

The program for the camp meeting and convention which are held annually at the district camp grounds here in August will be prepared. Topics will be assigned to lay and ministerial speakers from over the district to complete the program of services which will open this year on Friday evening, August 19, and close on Sunday evening, August 28. The special speakers for the occasion had already been secured last winter. For the camp meeting, the Rev. H. J. Kleihofer, pastor of Lane Park church, Chicago, and former president of North Central college, Naperville, Ill., will be the special speaker. The special convention speaker will be the Rev. A. E. Hansen, assistant editor of the Evangelical Messenger of Cleveland, Ohio.

CHANGE IN BOUNDARY

An important change in the boundaries of the Appleton district ordered by the 71st annual session of the Wisconsin conference at Oshkosh early in May will effect an enlargement of the annual district meetings here. With the dissolution by the conference of the Fond du Lac district, one of the oldest in the conference, the Appleton district now covers from its former boundaries of Gillet and Door-co in the north to Markesan in the south. Six new fields, Berlin, Markesan, Neshkoro, Oshkosh, Ripon and Winnebago, have been added and will henceforth take part in the Appleton district meetings.

STAGE And SCREEN

AVERAGE HUMAN

NOT EMOTIONAL

"Motion pictures are only life, either the life of today or yesterday," says Edward Sedgwick, who directed "The Flaming Frontier," an Edward Sedgwick-Universal production that is to be screened at Fischers Appleton theatre Thursday for three days, with an all-star cast. "Sometimes motion picture producers are charged with overdoing things in their efforts to produce great and interesting pictures, but I venture to say that everything that has been portrayed on the screen has at some time or another actually taken place in the life or lives of some persons somewhere."

Sedgwick's remarks were occasioned by an incident that takes place in the spectacular dance hall scene in "The Flaming Frontier." There have been such scenes before in pictures, but none of them as realistic as that shown in this great thriller. It is a large typical bar-room and dance hall of the Far West of the period of 1870. Frontiersmen, troopers, Indians and the feminine flotsam that were wont to gather in such places take their way in and out. Kato and Loulette are in full swing.

A man is shot, but the play goes on, and this is what startled Sedgwick to commenting. Some one suggested that the people should become excited but the director said no. And then he told the story of a little incident of which he was a spectator himself some years ago. The scene was in an almost similar establishment in Mexico. The setting was practically the same. Two men were shot and their dead bodies dragged from the place. "The play went on," said Sedgwick, and there was no stopping. It was all in the day's work. "It was only a coincidence, but then these are many in the life of a director, that it should fall to Sedgwick's lot to film a scene similar to one he himself witnessed years ago.

GARDEN OF EDEN SCENES
Children, as well as grown-up theatre patrons, will get the screen thrill of their lives when "Fig Leaves," Fox Film's version of an original story by Howard Hawks, opens a three day run at the New Bijou theatre today. Olive Borden and George O'Brien are featured.

In this story, many sequences of which are done in Technicolor, Director Hawks has endeavored to bring to the screen a carefully planned version of certain events associated with the Garden of Eden.

The garden sequences, as may be imagined, offered endless opportunities for the reincarnation of jungle animals, ranging from the mighty brontosaurus and the ridged tricera-top, to the slow-moving stegosaurus and the huge-legged dinosaurs, about which the man of today thinks a great deal but knows very little.

In making this remarkable picture, which is enhanced by a domestic love affair and heightened by a fashion revue which eclipses anything of the kind ever attempted in filmland, Mr. Hawks sought to make every sequence as plausible as possible. He has succeeded so well that previous critics pronounce the prehistoric sequences the most gripping shots ever recorded by the motion picture camera.

In the cast with Miss Borden and Mr. O'Brien are Phyllis Haver, Eulalie Jensen, Cecille Evans, Andre de Beranger, William Austin, Charles Conklin, Dorothy Dunbar and others. The story was adapted by Hope Loring and Louis D. Lighton.

SCOUTS PARTICIPATE IN OVERNIGHT HIKE

Boy Scouts of Troop 2, First Methodist church, took part in a unique hike Saturday, the first time it has been tried in this part of the state. The boys left Appleton at 1 o'clock in the afternoon and hiked 12½ miles toward Weyauwega, where they were met by Troop 1 of Weyauwega, which had left that city at 1 o'clock. The meeting place was about half way between the two cities.

The troops met about 6:30 and cooked supper. Then they initiated two local boys as tenderfoots. The troops pitched their tents and camped together overnight.

Early Sunday morning many of the Appleton boys passed tests. Chapel for both troops was held at 8 o'clock with Randall Penhale, in charge of the First Methodist church of Menasha, officiating. Troop 2 returned to Appleton about 1 o'clock Sunday afternoon. It was the second overnight hike for the local troop this year.

SUNDAY GAMES
APPLETON AT GREEN BAY.
Oshkosh at Neshanic.
Kaukauna at Kimberly.
Menasha, bye.

Appleton's three postponed games in the Fox River Valley baseball league will be played on Saturday afternoon. It is the last game of the season, and during the remainder of the season, it will be a meeting of loop managers Wednesday evening. The locals have three of five games called so far this season by rain. The postponed Oshkosh game will be played at Oshkosh on Saturday, June 11, and the postponed Menasha game at Menasha on Saturday, June 11. No date was set for the postponed Neshanic game at Neshanic because the new ball park is not yet completed and the managers would like to use it for the battle. It will be played some time in August, it is thought.

Sunday Appleton invades Green Bay in an attempt to break a second place tie with the Bays and hit the slants of Lewellyn, former U. of Nebraska and Menasha full hurler and packer grid star. Lew held Menasha's great team to three hits Monday, to win 1-0. Menasha, Neshanic and Oshkosh all are tied with Appleton and the Bays for second.

Kimberly, playing up to standard, will have little trouble holding the top rung, though the competition may be strong from the tailend Kaukauna squad which has been playing in tough luck all year. Oshkosh and Neshanic, regarded as at the season's start as the strongest pair of teams in the loop, will clash to break part of the season's tie. Menasha has a bye and as a result will be lowered from its second place tie to at least fourth.

Tuesday—Post-Crescent-Bankers (Postponed).
Wednesday—Legion 3, Interlake 0.
Wednesday—Co. D 2, Brandts 0.
Thursday—Legion vs Civics Club.
Friday—Badgers vs Interlake.

The American legion and Co. D softball teams were the conquerors this week in the two games played in the City Twilight softball loop, with the Legion squad surprising the Interlakes for a 3-0 win Tuesday afternoon and the Guardsmen taking a hard-fought 2-0 win over the Brandts Co. squad Wednesday. Both were hard battles featured by mound duels and in the Tuesday game the Soldiers won in the final frame. The game between the Interlakes and Civics club which was to have been played last Friday and the Post-Crescent-Bankers games of Tuesday both were postponed.

The upset of the Interlake crew by the comeback of the Legionnaires dropped the Papermakers from a first place tie with the undefeated Post-Crescent and Badger Printing teams to one for third with Co. D. The Papermakers were alone in third until the Guardsmen broke a fourth place tie with the Bankers by their win over the Brandts Co. squad to advance a notch.

Thursday the Legion and Civics club teams, composed of old team mates, clash. The Civics can pull from eighth place to a tie for sixth by a win while a win for the Soldiers will pull that crew from sixth to a tie for fifth with the Bankers. Most of the Civics club stars played with the Legion last year so that it will be a battle of old mates.

LATZO WORKS HARD FOR TITLE BOUT WITH JOEY

New York—(AP)—The same zeal for hard work that marked Pete Latzo's climb to the world's welterweight championship characterizes his training campaign for defense of his title Friday night at the Polo Grounds against Samuel Lazzaro of Baltimore, known to the ring as Joe Dundee.

Instead of tapering off in the last two days according to the accepted theories of conditioning the champion at his training camp at Poughkeepsie, N. Y., Latzo decided to do six rounds of boxing followed by calisthenics and road work.

Like Latzo, the challenger fought his way to the top of the 147-pounders by long and persistent effort and the two will be boxing in perhaps the

11 Sport Stars Graduate, 3 Are Ineligible; Cagers Hit Hardest

Appleton high school's basketball team will be hit the hardest of its three major sports squads next year by graduation and ineligibility. Four regular members of the second-place 1927 cage squad graduate Thursday evening at the commencement exercises and three others become ineligible to build a new team.

Eleven lettermen graduate Thursday evening and three other men, one a three-sport athlete and another an award winner in two, reach the limit of competition. Letter-man graduates are: Edward Frieders, football; Alfred Gebke, football; Kenneth Laird, football and basketball; Alois Liethen, football; Francis McAllister, track; Frank Murphy, basketball; George Navarre, track; Norbert Pfefferle, football, basketball and track; Francis Rooney, track; Daniel Steinberg, basketball and track; Lawrence Witzke, football; Carl Kunitz, football and basketball; Herbert Lutz, football, basketball and track; and Ronald Reetz, basketball, will be ineligible next year.

Men lost to the 1928 cage squad from the 1927 team are Capt. Steinberg, Reetz, Lutz, Laird, Kunitz, Pfefferle and Murphy, leaving Johnston and Strutz of the first squad.

Standings remained unchanged in the Wolf River Valley ball league over the last weekend when rain halted all scheduled games. This Sunday Shiocton invades Freedom for a game with the unbeaten loop leaders and Black Creek open its season at Manawa, with a chance to tie for first in the loop by a win. The Freedom battery against Shiocton Sunday will be Pingel or H. Tornow and Kurasch. Laesch and Hoier, star New London battery, have been added to the Hortonville lineup. most important fight of their careers. Betting is about even with more cash in sight as the hours pass. In the opening fray of "welterweight week" between Ace Hudkins of Nebraska and Al Mello of Lowell, Mass., here Wednesday night, the young New Englander received a thorough beating and passed out of the circle of leading welterweights. Hudkins victory nominated the blonde Westerner for a chance at the winner of the title fight Friday.

SET TO WIN

JIMMY CHARTERIS

Here's Jimmy Charteris, star half-miler of Washington, who again looks to be the best in that event on the Pacific coast. Charteris was national champion in 1923, but failed to do anything the next year. His performances this year make him a favorite to win that event in the Pacific Intercollegiate early in June.

LEE MEADOWS DROPS FIRST GAME OF YEAR

Bespokeed Pirate Hurler Loses First in Eight to Phillies

Baseball warfare by the National League concentrated Friday on a western front while the teams of the American League mobilized for battle in the east.

One day ahead of the other clubs in resumption of interseasonal warfare, the Philadelphia Nationals opened the conflict with a victory for the east, achieved at the expense of the Pirates, 7 to 4, at Pittsburgh Wednesday.

Lee Meadows, bespeckled Pirate pitcher, who had won all seven of his previous games this year was the victim of the Quakers winning onslaught. Arrayed against another Philadelphia team the leaders of the American league fared better. The Tankees took their fourth in five starts against the Athletics by 2 to 1 on a ninth inning single by Dugan.

Cleveland had a big day in pounding out a 14 to 1 decision over Detroit for an even break in their series. The hard hitting Tigers with their murderers' row of Manush, Fothergill and Heilmann could make but three hits off young Hudlin who notched his sixth victory of the year to the tune of 20 hits by his own team.

A pitching exhibition almost as dazzling as Hudlin's was produced by the massive Jim Elliott of the Robins, having his team to its fourth straight victory over the Braves by 6 to 2.

As though trying to imitate the work of the Robins in climbing out of the cellar the Boston Red Sox took their second in two days from the Senators, this time by 6 to 1 on the seventh-inning hurrying of Harries, always a puzzle for Washington.

JOHNSTON CHOSEN 1928 TRACK HEAD AT APPLETON HIGH

New Leader Broke Three Valley Marks This Year; 11 Men Get Letters

Chester Johnston, better known as Chuck or Swede, outstanding athlete of the 1927 Fox River Valley High school athletic conference in both football and track, was elected captain of the 1928 Appleton high school track team by ten teammates of the Valley conference championship squad. Johnston's only rivals in the voting were Kruse, weightman, hurdler and jumper and Capt. Roemer, half-mile ace.

Letters were awarded to 11 members of the title team, and the two managers, George Verbrick and George Ilang. Letter winners are: Capt. Robert Roemer, half-mile; George Navarre, mile; Francis Rooney and Francis McAllister, quarter-mile; Robert Neller, pole vault; Orville Strutz, pole vault and javelin; Herbert Lutz, dashes and hurdles; Willard Kruse, hurdles, jumps and dashes; Capt. elect Chester Johnston, dashes, weights and jumps; Norbert Pfefferle, weights; Dan Steinberg, hurdles and pole vault.

Six of the eleven men, Steinberg, Rooney, Lutz, McAllister, Navarre and Pfefferle, graduate or are lost to the team, leaving five lettermen, all of whom scored consistently but failed to make letters include Popp and Kunitz, sons. Neller is a soph and Kruse, Johnston, Roemer and Strutz are juniors. When Lutz, Rooney and McAllister graduate three members of this year's relay team will leave school.

The new track captain was all-conference halfback in football and was undefeated all year in three events in track, holding conference records in the shot put, broad jump and 100-yard dash. He scored 15 points in these events for Appleton in each meet and also won the discus when

Hagen Says To Watch Jones, Cruickshank, Jesse, Voight

BY JIMMY POWERS

New York—Keep your lamps peeled this summer for these four horsemen of winter golf—Bobby Jones, Bobby Cruickshank, Jesse Sweetser and George Voight!

That's the tip from Walter Hagen, who idled away a few minutes with me in between rounds of the annual Metropolitan indoor golf championship held here recently.

"Now that the southern season is closed," pipes Walter, "you will find a great part of our northern season dominated by these men."

"It was only a bad first round at East Lake that kept Bobby Cruickshank from being a real factor in the Southern. He hates to alibi for himself because he cleaned up just about everything else in that section. I never saw a more thrilling finish than his when he won the North and South at Pinehurst."

"Bobby Jones clinched his right to be called the greatest medal golfer in the world when he led the professional field at Atlanta by eight strokes. He had a neat 66 in the bargain."

"Jesse Sweetser, from what I have seen of him since his recovery from his recent illness, is back in his old form. He is getting a ball off the tee that I envy and he trounced Bobby Jones and myself when he was paired with 'Crucicle' in the pro-amateur event. It was his physician's advice rather than any actual physical weakness that made him withdraw after he'd played three rounds."

Voight, according to the Haig, is one of the finest prospects he has seen. He likes his play in the Southern and Northern opens and envies his qualifying record in the North-South amateur when he knocked off a 67-67-65. Here are four men to watch, warns Mr. Hagen, who is quite adept at recognizing his golf onions. Cruickshank has been a foremost contender for years but never seemed to take himself as seriously as he should. Now he is convinced he can reach the top and he's out to do it in the major meets.

Sweetser says he will compete in only one tournament—the National Amateur. In this, he will be the biggest sort of a factor for Jones and Von Elm to consider. A long driver and a marvel with his mashie-niblick, the Silvanoy Giant needs only to have his putting touch to go along with anyone.

Voight will qualify in the National, according to Hagen, barring a collapse in his game. He likes his seconds which hug the line all the way to the pin. And as for the Haig, while he has been unsteady in his praise of the four horsemen of the winter links, he's going to cut quite a nifty figure himself.

Cincinnati—Willie Ames, Akron, O., defeated Johnny Harvath, Cleveland (10).

New York—Ace Hudkins, Nebraska, defeated Al Mello, Lowell, Mass. (10).

Jackie Fields, Los Angeles, beat Joey Kauffman, New York (10).

PFEFFERLE WINS ATHLETIC HONOR

Popular Appleton High Athlete Awarded Legion All-Round Medal

Norbert Pfefferle, a three-sport man and captain of the 1928 Appleton high school football squad, was chosen as the best all-around athlete, sportsman and scholar of the 1927 graduating class by a committee of prominent men selected by Ony Johnston post of the American legion. As a result he was awarded the American legion medal at the class day exercises of the school Wednesday afternoon by F. P. Wheeler. The medal is awarded annually to the man in the graduating class with the best record in athletics, sportsmanship and scholarship.

Pfefferle has won three letters in football, three in basketball and one in track, and has competed for three years in the latter sport. He captained the 1928 grid squad which finished in a tie for third in the strong Fox River Valley conference, on the heels of two undefeated squads, and gave West Green Bay, one of the champions a 14-14 tie after outplaying that squad the entire game. He was a member of the A club for three years and took part in the operetta, The Bells of Barcelona this year.

In his talk, Mr. Wheeler emphasized the fact that Pfefferle had been active for four years in all three major sports of the school and still had maintained an average of 83 in all studies. He has been characterized not only here but by outside teams and coaches and officials as one of the best sportsmen over to compete on an Appleton high team or in Valley conference athletics.

NO GOLD AWARDS FOR BADGER STAR

Barnum Plays Three Sports, Three Years But Teams Don't Win Title

Madison—(P)—Rollie Barnum, one of Wisconsin's greatest all-around athletes, will end his collegiate career Friday, never having played upon a championship team.

When Chicago comes to Madison for the last ball game of the season, Rollie will strap on the shin guards and crouch behind home plate for the last time in a Cardinal uniform. It will mark the end of three years of varsity competition in three years.

Playing on the football, basketball and baseball teams throughout the years, being captain of the basketball team last season, Rollie has never had the distinction of being a member of a championship Wisconsin team although the teams have always been feared in midwest and conference competition.

His record is in contrast to that of Denny Oosterbaan, Michigan's all-around star, who almost completed a similar number of years in conference competition always a member of a championship team. The final sport, baseball, spoiled the record when Michigan was noosed out.

Coming to the state university from Evansville, Wis., where he was a home town idol Rollie immediately started spending his afternoons under the direction of freshman coaches in the three sports and numerals came his way. In his second year he participated in the same three sports, winning major W's in the trio.

But Wisconsin teams were not strong enough to win first place honors. The next year Rollie took up his duties in the folds of the three squads and the same luck befell them in regard to championships.

His senior year, it was the same story but in all games, in all sports, Rollie stood out as one of the most consistent and reliable players, several sport writers naming him for all-Western honors at the completion of the hard court season. In baseball this season he has hit well and been a deciding factor in placing the Badgers in the first division.

Unassuming and good natured, Rollie is probably one of the most popular men on the university campus and his graduation will mark the passing of a real athlete. He will study medicine at the university next fall and may become connected with the Badger coaching staff.

BORTFIELD, HALL CLASH ON FRIDAY

Milwaukee Boy Will Claim State Welter Title If He Is Winner

Milwaukee—The welterweight championship of Wisconsin will be claimed by Billy Bortfield, local star, providing he defeats Billy Hall of Chicago at the Empress Theatre Arena next Friday evening, and the local lad will then be ready to throw down the gauntlet to Pinky Mitchell, who has been considered the state champion for some time.

"Pinky has made no effort to defend his title in over eight months and I feel that I have a right to claim the crown and defend it in case I win from Hall."

That is the statement from Billy Bortfield and his father, Paul, who acts as his manager.

"In the past I have not given enough attention to boxing," said Billy, "but for this match I will be at my best and if Mr. Hall beats me he will be entitled to all the credit. I have never made any effort to meet him, but now I am around the welterweight notch myself and would like nothing better than to have a clash with Pinky. If they give decisions in the state there could be no mistake about it then."

Hall is just anxious to turn Mr. Bortfield back in his climb, for it means much to Bill.

Milwaukee fans will see new faces in Ralph Mendoza, the Mexican lightweight, and Paul Wangley, Junior Light.

Mendoza meets Joe Azzarella in an eight rounder while Wangley tangles with Johnny Brown, the hard hitting South Milwaukee Junior.

Sammy Fein, Pewaukee pride, will battle in the opener with Charlie Caruso.

14 BADGER TRACKMEN IN COLLEGIATE MEET

Madison—Fourteen members of the University of Wisconsin track team will compete in the Big Ten track meet here last week, have been entered in the National Collegiate at Chicago on June 10 and 11. Coach Tom Jones, highly elated at the showing of his boys, made the decision Thursday to enter every man who placed in the conference meet Saturday, and a few others who have performed well in previous competition.

Carl Charles McGinnis, who garnered 12 1-2 points for individual honors at the Big Ten Classic, will compete in his favorite events. Others entered are Douvan, Zola, Smith, Erickson, Store, Murphy, Fahrmeyer, Petaja, Payne, Stier, Mayer, Schuerman, and Kreuz.

TAXI BALLMEN TAKE FAME FROM P-P TEAM

The O. K. Taxi football team won its second straight game since its organization when it defeated the Pettibone-Peabody Co. team Tuesday evening by a score of 8-2. Kunitz and Demand formed the winning battery and Scheidler and Hagg worked for the losers. Diederich of the winners was the field star.

The Taxi still are looking for games with Appleton and Valley teams. Managers should get in touch with Carl Kunitz, 112 W. Washington-st., phone 206, or Herbert Lutz, 225 N. Meade-st., phone 2105.

FOUR ORANGE ATHLETES ARE 3-LETTER WINNERS

When letters were awarded to 11 members of the 1927 Valley Conference track and field champions Wednesday four athletes of Appleton high school became three-letter men, the first for several years.

The three-letter stars are Chester "Swede" Johnston, all-conference fullback in football, a forward in basketball, and three-record holder in the Valley track loop; Herbert "Herbie" Lutz, football quarterback, all-conference cage forward, and sprinter and relay man; Orville "Ogg" Strutz, football half-back, basketball forward and 1923 captain, and pole vaulter and javelin man; Norbert "Pie" Pfefferle, 1927 football captain at tackle, basketball guard and weight man.

Johnston and Strutz return next year.

DELANEY, M'TIGUE IN TITLE BOUT ON JULY 7

New York—(P)—Jack Delaney and Michael M'Tigue are to mix it up in the Yankee stadium July 7 for Delaney's light heavyweight crown.

Delaney has whipped M'Tigue in their previous meeting. But since then M'Tigue knocked out Paul Bernbach and made an impressive showing against Jack Sharkey while Delaney lost to Maloney whom Sharkey recently knocked out.

BADGERS PLAY FIVE GRID FOES IN '28

Michigan, Gophers, Maroons, Iowa, Purdue Battle Card Gridders

Madison—The 1928 Wisconsin football slate, compiled at the recent meeting of the Big Ten coaches and directors here, schedules the Badgers to play five conference opponents. Michigan, Minnesota, Chicago, Iowa and Purdue appear on the Cardinal chart, the same five institutions that Wisconsin has battled on the gridiron the past few years.

Of the five contests arranged by Director Little and Head Coach Thistlethwaite, but two are to be played at home. They are the Chicago and Minnesota games, on Nov. 10 and Nov. 21 respectively. The 1928 meeting of the Maroons and Wisconsin is being held in Madison for the first time in years, as these two elevens have always closed the season at the Midway.

The 1929 schedules will see Wisconsin making their usual trip to Chicago again, and at that time Northwestern will be added with a game in the Windy City the alternate years. Since the 1928 chart provides for but two home games of importance, it is not at all unlikely that an intersectional tilt will be booked with one of the strong Eastern teams.

Michigan, Minnesota and Purdue replace Chicago, Northwestern and Indiana on Wisconsin's basketball schedule for next year, under the provision of the rotating playing agreement.

BRITISH, AMERICAN PROS IN TITLE MEET

Worcester, Mass.—(P)—Eight outstanding British professional golfers will play eight hobbled American professionals at the Worcester country club Friday and Saturday in a team match for the Ryder Cup, a comparatively new trophy serving the same purpose as the Walker cup in amateur golf.

Thursday night Worcester will officially welcome the invaders to this country as well as to Massachusetts. There will be a banquet which at the visitors request will end at 9:30. The British team is in an especially optimistic mood.

Far of the course is 70. In recent practice the best any British or American player has done is 73.

The competition will consist of 36-hole foursomes and singles. Walter Hagen is captain of the American team, Abe Mitchell, British captain, was taken ill just before his team left and Herbert Jolly took his place.

ana on Wisconsin's basketball schedule for next year, under the provision of the rotating playing agreement. Ohio, Iowa and Illinois remain on the Badger's list of opponents. One non-conference game has already been booked with the Oregon Aggies, who will make a vacation tour of the midwest. Syracuse will undoubtedly be met again in 1928, probably at Cleveland.

THE INSIDE OF BASEBALL BY BILLY EVANS

1. What is regarded as an illegal batted ball and what is the penalty?

2. When is the batsman automatically out on a third strike, regardless of whether the ball is caught or not?

3. Baserunner steals second. On the next pitch he returns to first. How can he be retired?

4. When two runners are on the same base to whom does it belong?

5. Does the failure of a preceding runner to touch a base affect the status of a succeeding runner who conforms to the rules?

THIS TELLS IT

1. The batting of a ball when either or both feet are out of batter's box. Batsman should be called out for so violating the rules.

2. When the first base is occupied and there are less than two out.

3. By holding the ball on second base, in this case, the base to which he was entitled or by touching him with the ball.

4. The original occupant, always, unless he is forced to advance to make room for the batsman.

5. It does not affect the status of

CHANGE DATE OF CARD, WASHINGTON CREW RACE

Madison—The date of the crew race between Wisconsin and Washington has been changed from June 15 to 17. The former date was set tentatively, but both parties have now found it more convenient to set the races ahead.

The Huskies find it impossible to leave the west prior to June 10, which would not allow much time to work out on Lake Mendota before the meet. Due to their many setbacks, the Badger crew will welcome any additional time to get back into shape. No definite word has been received here as to whether the Washington Jay-Vee boat will be pitted against "Dad" Vail's freshmen.

The change in the date of the crew events will give those alumni returning for commencement an opportunity to witness the race. The coast contingent will then continue east for the Poughkeepsie regatta at the same time Coach Vail and his yearlings leave for the Hudson.

Your Question And Its Answer

By J. A. PANNECK, D. C., Doctor of Chiropractic

QUESTION: If there is no need for medicine to accomplish a cure or restore health to a sick body, what need is there for Chiropractic Adjustments if the body heals itself?—L. L. P.

ANSWER:—If medicine is life there would be no one born, and no one die; therefore life is not drugs. Chiropractic teaches that the life principle, or Innate Intelligence, intelligently selects and assembles the chemical elements found in the human anatomy; that it builds the organs of the body for certain purposes, and then controls and governs their function and activities by means of these mental impulses created in the brain and sent over the spinal cord and nerves to every tissue cell in the body. This is true, and it is evident that an impairment of the brain or nerve tissue will interfere with the normal creation, transmission and expression of these mental impulses, with the result that the cells which these nerves supply, will not receive or express the proper command; will not coordinate or work in harmony with the rest of the organism, and then we have a condition of disease, or lack of ease. To the Chiropractor, health is simply a normal expression of the intelligent command of mental impulse from the brain to all parts of the physical organism.

Therefore, if the spine is normal the health of the individual will be normal.

QUESTION:—Does Innate Intelligence or the power within the body mend a bruised finger?—R. S.

ANSWER:—Yes, all the repair work of the body is done by Innate Intelligence, whether cuts, bruises, burns or scalds. So we should be very careful not to hinder this power within us.

This only goes to prove the fact that there is just as much chemistry found in a dead body as in a living body, yet all function or healing has ceased when this Innate Intelligence or power which brought us into the world, has left the body.

2-duty Ford Oil for the 2-duty Ford job

THESE things happen from using the wrong kind of oil for your Ford. Excessive operating costs. Needless break-downs. Preventable repairs.

This is why—in the Ford, one oil has two distinct jobs: First, it must lubricate the motor. Second, it must lubricate the transmission. Each job requires entirely different characteristics in the same oil.

To solve this dual problem of Ford lubrication Tide Water engineers created Veedol Forzol—a different kind of oil. And the best proof that Veedol Forzol solves the problem is the fact that it is now giving over a million Ford owners these eight economies in operation:

"The 8 Economies of Veedol Forzol"

1. Eliminates costly chatter
2. 10 to 25% gasoline saving
3. 10 to 25% saving in oil
4. Reduces carbon 10 to 25%
5. Resists heat and friction
6. Resists fuel dilution
7. Increases ability to coast
8. Reduces repair bills

Have your crankcase drained and refilled with Veedol Forzol today by the dealer who displays the orange and black Veedol Forzol sign. At once, you will notice the improvement. Be sure to always ask for Veedol Forzol by name.

DAUGHTERS OF MIDAS

by Anne Austin

THIS HAS HAPPENED
Because he wants to help further his ambitions which they have expressed, T. Q. CURTIS, department store owner, takes BILLY WELLS, NYDA LOMAX, and WINNIE SHELTON, employees, into his home as his wards for one year. Billy, ambitious to be a concert violinist, is the only one that is sincere. The others lie to enjoy his generosity.

The girls accidentally learn that he intends to apportion one of them when the year is up. Winnie and Nyda are eager to gain high place in the old man's affections. Billy is unwillingly drawn into the battle. She is infatuated with DAL ROMANE, nephew of MRS. MEADOWS, the hostess. She believes he is "playing" both her and Winnie Shelton and her suspicions are increased when the two make excuses and are absent from the city over the same weekend.

Inspired by her infatuation, she tenderly remembers CLAY CURTIS, son of her benefactor, who has disinherited himself and is living with the Wells family in the poor part of town, working in a factory by day and writing music at night. She loses interest in her music, and finally she has a breakdown.

While she is confined to her room, CONSTANCE BRADLEY, a well-bred, wealthy girl whom Billy admires tremendously, calls to see her and the two plan to go to a resort, present Lake, for a month. Constance mentions during the conversation that Romane has an interest in a gown shop. Billy is stunned at this information, because she has been induced by Romane's flattering compliments to make extravagant purchases there. Winnie's appearance and mannerisms, which she has picked up from her mysterious week-end trip confirms Billy's suspicion that there is something between her and Dal Romane. She is almost in hysterics with fear and suspicion, coupled with her terrible need for Dal's love.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY

On Tuesday evening, while the other members of the Curtis household were at dinner, Viola, the maid, brought Billy's tray to her bedside, grinning with wicked glee.

"Here you dinner, Miss Billy, and if you jes' happen to find a piece of paper folded up in your napkin, I don't know nothin' about it."

The delicious dinner was destined to receive not one-tenth of the attention to which it was entitled. As soon as Viola had backed out of the room, Billy snatched up the napkin and shook it. Out of a blank envelope she drew a single sheet of notepaper, covered with the tiny, beautiful printing which had become so heart-shakingly familiar to her, though she had received only one other specimen of it before.

"Mignon, they won't let me see you," the note began abruptly, without a date. "T. Q. C. has forbidden me to write to you or to send you flowers. But I must see you. Aunt Lucia tells me you are going away for a month. Are you too ill to steal down to the garden to see me tonight? Oh, Mignon, darling, I'm starving for the sight of you, for the touch of your dear hands. I am willing you to come to me tonight, for just a few precious minutes. I shall be waiting for you in the old summerhouse at eleven. I can't let you go away for so many dreary weeks without telling you goodby. I love you, Dal."

Her dinner untouched, she lay for a long time, quite still, her body flushed with the fever of anticipation. Magically, the very sight of his handwriting had wiped out all her sick despair. Craftiness dictated her first actions after those long minutes of delicious anticipation. She worked with frantic haste for a few minutes—mashing spoonfuls of food upon her plate, scattering crumbs from the toast, pouring out a cup of the cooling chocolate. Then she disposed of most of the food in the bathroom, leaving just enough to deceive any observer into thinking she had eaten a fairly hearty meal. It did not occur to her to eat the food. The very sight of it was distasteful to her, in her state of frantic anticipation.

She was safely back in bed again when Viola called for the tray, and she smiled demurely when the colored girl exclaimed happily over the amount she had "eaten."

T. Q. and Mrs. Meadows paid her visits after dinner, and the old man was quite jubilant over the color in her cheeks and the sparkle in her eyes.

"If I didn't have the doctor's word for it, I'd swear you'd been playing possum on me," he told her fondly. "Get a good night's sleep now, Billy, and be ready for your trip tomorrow. Here's a little check for incidentals," he added awkwardly, tucking a folded slip of paper under her pillow.

He kissed her on both cheeks, and she could see that he was surprised and touched when she clung to him, crying brokenly: "Oh, you're so good to me, so good to me!"

The check, which she unfolded with a flush of shame and excitement, was for five hundred dollars—an extra month's allowance. How Nyda and Winnie would hate her if they knew!

At ten o'clock she locked her door while she dressed with trembling haste, even to shoes and stockings. Then she crept back into bed again, hiding her dress under a quilted cotton dressing robe. She was innocently yawning over a book when Mrs. Meadows came to ask how she was feeling and to kiss her goodnight.

Nyda and Winnie had come to a glance at the Country Club. Mrs. Meadows told her and Mrs. Curtis were working in the library. At half past ten Billy slipped off the covers and crawled above her bed. She lay for ten minutes, jerking and quivering in the dark, passing the time by reciting twenty German poems she had memorized in high school. When she was sure that it was nearly eleven, she slipped out of her room, unlocked the door, and crept into the hall, turning the key in the lock and locking it away behind her. She slipped on the spring coat. Her head was sore in a dark silk scarf. The noise of the servants' stairs crashed above her light steps, but she descended to the first door without detection.

When she scurried past the butler's pantry, where Sawyers was locking up the silver for the night, the butler looked up, peered at her and called out cheerily, "That you, Clara? You know the rules—back by twelve, old girl."

Old girl! Billy chuckled and waved a hand in flippant farewell, and Sawyers was satisfied. Evidently he was a far more approachable being where Clara, the prior maid, was concerned, then he was with the three "young mistresses" of the house. As she sped lightly across the lawn, Billy was surprised to find that her knees were wobbly. And she had thought she could run miles, if those miles led her to Dal Romane!

"Mignon! God, I thought you weren't coming!" The deep voice that had the power to stir her as had no other sound in the world called out thrillingly to her as she hesitated, panting at the door of the summerhouse.

She fell into his arms, flattened her body against his, flung back her head with a gesture of utter abandon for his kiss.

"Poor little bit!" he crooned over her, as through the light fabric of her coat his hands, straining for him, discovered the almost increased prominence of her ribs and shoulder blades. "You must not be eating a thing, child. Not sleeping, either?"

"No," she shivered. "I can't eat. I hate food!" Her voice became suddenly violent. "Someone is always trying to make me eat! But I do wish I could sleep. Why can't I sleep, Dal?" She clung to him like a forlorn, frightened child.

His voice vibrated on the tender, dramatic note that always stirred her so profoundly: "Let's not talk about food in connection with you. I don't like to see a beautiful woman eat. So they're sending you away—so I can't keep you from eating and sleeping?" His voice became light, almost teasing. "Of course I had to see you, darling. You shivered! Are you cold?" He wrapped her coat, and then his arms, more tightly about her.

"Let's sit down." She struggled out of his arms, knowing that she could not talk to him while his thrilling arms were upon her.

He humored her, taking his place at the extreme end of the narrow bench she had chosen. By the glow of the newly risen moon they might look into each other's eyes. A chill breeze lifted her hair from her forehead, which gleamed ghostly white in the moonlight. Whether it was the magic of the moon or the inner fire of triumph, she could not determine, but his eyes gleamed wide, like disks of black, polished stone.

"Dal, I want you to tell me the truth," she began breathlessly. "First, do you own an interest in Madame Dubois' modiste shop?"

"Why, yes, darling. The woman opened on a shoestring. I saw that she had a really marvelous clothes sense, knew how to buy and how to sell, and I put a little capital into the business." He spoke with utter candor.

"When?"
"When? Let's see—very recently. Oh, yes, two weeks ago today, to be perfectly exact. Oh, I see what's worrying you," he laughed indulgently. "You think I was acting as a sort of 'come-on' man for the firm of Belgian lace dress. You're quite wrong, darling. My profits—if I make any—will not include a percentage on that sale." His voice was light, casual, but she thought she detected a thin strain of sarcasm running through the careful words.

"Oh!" She had to accept his explanation. "I hope you will make some money there, Dal—if you need it."
"Don't we all?" His teeth gleamed in an amused smile. "Now what else is bothering the poor little head?"
"Did you really go to Chicago, Dal—and did you really go alone?"

"Why, Mignon! I don't understand you." "I hope you will make some money there, Dal—if you need it."

"Oh, Dal! I'm sorry! I've been nearly crazy with doubt and suspicion—and lack of sleep—" She flung herself prone on the bench, so that her head lay on his knees. So he had taken it for granted all along that they were to be married! What a self-torturing, suspicious little fool she had been!

It was twelve o'clock when she crept back across the back lawn toward the house, alone, Dal watching her from the shadows of the summerhouse. She paused for a moment to wave to him, before darting into the servants' entrance at the rear of the house. When he had returned her signal, she glanced upward to the rows of windows, to see if a light burned anywhere in that wing of the mansion. What she saw caused her to freeze to immobility, unable to take a step.

A light burned in Nyda Lomax's room on the third floor and out of the open window stepped a man, pulling the window shut as he straightened to his full height upon the small balcony. A direct escape led from the balcony to within a few feet of the ground, and precaution which T. Q. Curtis had insisted upon. Billy watched him vault slightly over the railing of the stone balcony, and begin to descend the fire escape, in a leisurely, accustomed manner, as if he had little or no fear of detection.

Before he had reached the ground, Billy was hurrying her on frantically, up the servants' stairs, a pencil of light under Nyda's door told her that either the room was occupied or that the man—whatever he was—had not taken the trouble to turn it off. She knocked, calling out softly, but in an urgent, frightened voice.

STREET EXCAVATION PROGRESSING RAPIDLY

Excavating for the pavement on S. Mason-st. is advancing rapidly, and concrete will be poured in the center of the road, the section occupied by the street car tracks, late this week. The excavating of the east half of the street has been completed from W. College-ave to the viaduct and the crew is now excavating the west half and tearing up the street car tracks. The curb and gutter gang was shifted to Meade-st. to install the curbs this week. Meade-st., however, has not been closed to traffic. When Meade-st. is completed the crew will shift operations to Mason-st.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Ziebell, Mrs. Henry Ziebell of Milwaukee, and Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Ziebell of Green Bay, visited Monday at the home of Mrs. L. Lohman, 118 E. Kimball-st.

"It's me—Billy, Nyda! Are you there, Nyda?"

There was the sound of hasty footsteps, a closet door opened and shut, then Nyda, with a negligee thrown over her nightgown, flung open the door.

(To Be Continued)

Billy goes away and is restored to health and the conviction that Dal Romane no longer can cast a spell on her. But she was wrong.

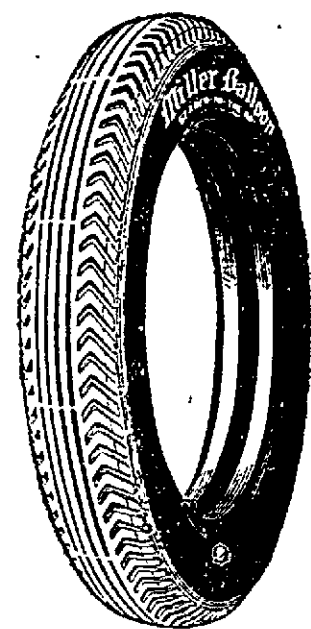

Why Pay for Trouble?

Miller

Many a car owner is doing that very thing when he might buy Miller GEARED-TO-THE-ROAD tires and get away from tire troubles. The Miller is built to withstand the three biggest enemies of tires.

One-piece tread and side-wall eliminates cracks, hinges and side-wall separation. Road shaped tread gives greater traction surface and eliminates spotty, uneven wear. Uniflex construction allows the tire to flex as a whole and so eliminates the excessive inner heat which caused so much tire trouble.

Less trouble means longer wear and longer wear makes lower mileage costs. All sizes and styles in stock.

BURBANK, famed plant wizard, performed wonders in the development of hybrid plant species. By grafting together two plants, shrubs, or trees having certain like characteristics and certain desirable unlike characteristics he would produce a new plant in which would be combined the best characteristic of both.

We have done this same thing with motor fuel. Delcol Benzol is an advanced, hybrid motor fuel, that is neither benzol nor gasoline, but a perfect blending of both, combining all the advantages of each in a single fuel. Thus: Delcol Benzol is far superior to gasoline alone, just as it is also superior, as a motor fuel, to pure benzol, alone.

Delcol Benzol vaporizes at a much lower temperature than gasoline and consequently starts easier and quicker. It has more body than gasoline, so you get more mileage from Benzol—it doesn't flow through the carburetor as fast as gasoline. Delcol Benzol delivers more power than gasoline, because it explodes with a crowding shove, instead of a sudden jolt. Benzol requires less choke in cold weather, and consequently causes less crankcase dilution. Some of its other important characteristics are: No knock, even on hills, less carbon, and a cooler motor in summer.

Poor Mr. M'Cormick Tells Of Honeymooning Troubles

BY MILTON BRONNER

London—Pity Cyrus H. McCormick the Chicago multi-millionaire who, with his bride, is starring in a comedy which might be called "The Poor Little Rich Man."

All he wants is to be let alone. He can buy almost anything that mere money can buy—but the one thing he would like to have is denied him. That one thing is the privacy enjoyed by the ordinary American citizen when he comes to Europe on a wedding trip. McCormick recently married Miss Alice Holt, who had been his private secretary for eleven years. They were married quietly in the country home of the bride's niece near Dublin, New Hampshire.

THE SIEGE STARTS
Once aboard their steamer, they were bombarded with wireless messages. They missed would-be interviewers at Liverpool by spending a day in Ireland. But the chase was taken up when they reached London.

"Why can't they let us alone?" he said to me in a puzzled way. "All we want to do is to spend a holiday just like any other citizens. Other men have married and have not been bothered this way. I regret all these London newspaper stories about the 'shy bridegroom' and the 'shy bride.' It's not shyness to desire reasonable privacy."

THEY HAVEN'T ANY PLANS
"Mrs. McCormick and I want to enjoy London in our own way. We both know London and Europe. So it is not a new story for us. London in May is always a pleasant place to be. We have friends we want to visit. There are some very good plays we want to see. There are some excellent big stores in which we would like to shop."

"Plans? We haven't made any definite cut-and-dried ones. We will make our plans as the mood strikes us. All I know is that we expect to travel about Europe for two or three months. When we leave London we will go to Paris, where my son, Gordon, has been studying architecture at the Beaux Arts."

Mrs. McCormick, with a mass of wavy hair and eyes alight with humor, smilingly nodded her head in acquiescence.

LIVE UNPRETENTIOUSLY
Most American "dollar kings" go to some "swish" hotel in London, rent a semi-royal suite, and live in most lavish style. The Chicago bridegroom rented a flat in Harewood Court, Hanover Square.

This building is entirely given up to service flats rented by the day, week or month. It is quiet, and away from the ballyhoos.

CYRUS H. MCCORMICK AND HIS BRIDE

McCormick and his bride do not have a big car with a solemn English chauffeur standing in front of the building awaiting their pleasure. Most times they go about town in a taxi just like John Smith.

FREE CHEST CLINIC TO BE HELD HERE SATURDAY

Parents are urged to bring anemic and underweight children to the monthly free chest clinic at the Appleton Woman's club from 1:30 to 5:30 Saturday afternoon. Dr. C. G. Boyd of Riverview sanatorium will be the examining physician.

Tuberculosis is contracted generally in childhood and remains in the body, sometimes for years, awaiting the time when through illness or incorrect living the resistance of the body has been lowered so that the disease can get in its work, physicians point out. The healthy body has nothing to fear from tuberculosis but the children who are considerably underweight offer little resistance to the disease. Children under 16 years of age must be accompanied by their parents or some other adult to the clinic.

APPOINT COMMITTEE FOR FRESHMAN WEEK

Four Appleton girls and one from Neenah were selected to help the administration in freshman week at Lawrence college next fall when new girls are aided in adapting themselves to college life before the formal opening of school. The plan was adopted last year, and the program will be similar this year with the exception that more social events will be arranged. It was announced.

FEW WILSON STUDENTS TO QUIT CLASS ROOM

Only two or three ninth grade students at Wilson junior high school will not enter senior high school next fall, according to Dr. M. H. Small, principal. All 125 students in the class have made out programs for their freshman year at high school.

Commercial courses are attractive to the greatest number. Forty-two signed for commerce work. English is second with 29 students, manual arts third with 21, and home arts fourth with 15. The remaining pupils will take mathematics, science and languages.

Only 16 members of the class are in the lower quarter, according to standard intelligence quotients. In the standard tests, 20 of the group of 125 would be in this lower quarter. The median for the class was 120, as compared with 101 for the standard median.

Girls from Appleton who will help are Irene Kreiss, Marian Worthing, Edith Reeve, and Miriam Russell. Miss Helen Greenwood of Neenah will be in the group.

THE LORD IS JUST!
Dear Editor:
I had an idea my wife was entertaining a boy-friend during my business trips.
So I used the old gag of announcing that I was going to Chicago. I intended to go downtown and return unexpectedly a few hours later.
I was kissing her goodbye when my neighbor drove up. "Come on," he said, "I hear you're going to Chicago. I am, too. Ride down to the station with me, and we'll get a section together!"
"Warbling Cockoo!"

Dear Mr. Judell:
I was back in the alley for three Hours before this guy comes along.

You see, I had spotted him in a boot-leg joint when he broke out a roll of bottle that would have choked a John-swallower.
I put the gun on him and lifted his roll. He beats it according to directions.
Then I starts out of the alley, and I goes about a dozen yards when a strange jete from out of the town sticks me up and lifts the swing from me. All that trouble for nothing.
A week later I goes to the jail to see my old pal Sweeney. His cell-mate is the duke that stuck me up. "What you in for?" I asks.
"I roled a guy for an armful," he says, "and I get pinched the first place I try to pass his dough. It's counterfeited."

Tells How New Remedy Relieved
Suffering And Made Him Well

Aged Appleton man now free of stomach trouble, backache, headaches, constipation and other complaints.

"Dreco has helped me so I've already persuaded several friends to try it and it is a pleasure to give this statement for publication in the newspapers," declared Mr. Everett Granger in a recent talk with the Dreco man at Schlitz Bros. Drug Store.

Granger who lives at 617 N. Appleton St. this city is now 68 years old and works as a gardener every day.

"When I started on Dreco I felt so bad I was losing lots of time from my work. My stomach pained me terribly after meals and was always bloated with gas. No matter how little I ate it felt like lead when it reached my stomach. Even a glass of milk distressed me terribly. I was also troubled with backaches, was always constipated, had frequent headaches, slept poorly at night and was so completely rundown no-one believed I would get well again.

"But Dreco proved just what I needed. I toned up my stomach so that I now have an excellent appetite and can eat anything without any distress. My bowels are as regular as the clock, the backaches and headaches have disappeared. I sleep soundly at night, my nerves are steady and I no longer have that drowsy lazy feeling. Dreco has made them all sit up and take notice around my house for they all laughed at me when I first bought it and said I was throwing money away."

It cannot be repeated too often that the stomach is the fountain which supplies every part of the body. If the stomach is sick the brain, the bowels and kidneys are all sick. The trouble may all be felt in one spot it may be in the stomach itself, or it may be in the liver, or in the kidneys. It will be felt in the weakest place. Wherever it is Dreco corrects the trouble by its prompt action on the stomach.

Mr. H. W. C. Marr Baker, the well-known Expert from the Dreco Laboratories now at Schlitz Bros. downtown drug store, is telling scores of people every day how to take Dreco for best results. Go to see him.

LEGAL NOTICE

STATE OF WISCONSIN, COUNTY COURT, OUT

ALDERMAN SEEKS TO STOP PRACTICE OF LOANING PROPERTY

Vander Heyden Introduces Resolution But Is Told to Revise Measure

A resolution forbidding city officials from selling, loaning, or giving away city property without formal consent of the common council was introduced by Alderman Vander Heyden at the common council meeting Wednesday night but was withdrawn for revision on advice of Mayor A. C. Rule. The purpose of the measure is to prevent losses occurring annually at the city barns, the alderman explained.

Investigations proved that city property was being loaned without any record of the transactions, and that articles often were never returned, he alleged. Mayor Rule pointed out that the resolution would prevent the mayor or from sending the fire department to nearby cities on emergency calls, and that there were many instances when immediate action was needed. He asked Alderman Vander Heyden to revise the resolution.

Alderman Greiner told the council a new provision is to be placed in effect at the city barns guaranteeing the return of borrowed equipment, and that the resolution would only be superfluous.

Alderman Catlin declared he was willing to accept the judgment of the mayor and the chairman of the streets and bridges committee in the matter of loaning tools.

Art-Killmore Electric company and Langstadt Electric company were the only bidders on the signal lighting system proposed for erection on the intersection of Richmond and Cherry Sts. and W. College Ave. The bids were referred to the streets and bridges committee for tabulation.

Alderman Vander Heyden opposed the signal system, holding that there is no need for another one there at this time. Alderman Catlin said he opposed the system on the grounds of economy.

WOULD CONFINE DOGS

A resolution compelling dog owners to keep their pets confined from May 1 to September 1, every year was referred to the ordinance committee. Failure to observe the proposed ordinance would make the offender liable to a fine of not less than $1 or more than $5. The resolution was introduced by Alderman Vort, who said that stray dogs are a nuisance.

The finance committee was instructed to prepare a schedule for the 120th Field Artillery band which will play 20 concerts throughout the city next summer.

COUNCIL REBUKES STEINHAEUER FOR LOWERING WAGES

Charges He Decreases Laborers' Pay Without Permission of Aldermen

Because he recently issued an order reducing the wages of street department employees from 42 to 40 cents an hour without official sanction either of the common council or the streets and bridges committee, Alderman Mike Steinhauer, chairman of the committee, Wednesday night was severely rebuked by several council members.

The matter was called to the attention of the council by Alderman Mark Catlin, who said he had been approached by members of the street department who wished to learn why the cut was made and who ordered it. Alderman Steinhauer reported that he had investigated the wage situation and had discussed it with members of his committee, that in former years it had been the custom of the chairman of the streets and bridges committee to cut wages and that he thought he also had the power of reducing wages.

"I investigated the matter thoroughly before I ordered the street commissioner to cut the salaries," Alderman Steinhauer explained. "I found that other companies paying common laborers from 35 to 40 cents an hour, and as the street department employees from 50 to 60 men, I thought we should keep the payroll down as low as possible."

WANTED TO CUT COST

"Last year the street department spent approximately $80,000. That is too much money, and as chairman of the streets and bridges committee I am going to do all in my power to save expenses. I felt, after discussing wage conditions with employers and employees in many other businesses throughout the city, that 40 cents an hour is a fair wage. If the men do not want to work for that amount, I told the street commissioner to tell them they could quit. I also ordered him to hire them at 38 cents an hour if they applied for their positions again after reconsidering the matter."

Alderman Vort, a member of the streets and bridges committee, admitted he knew nothing of the wage action. He said he believed Alderman Steinhauer made a big mistake by not taking the matter either to the committee or the council before he issued any orders. Alderman Greiner, also a member of the committee, was ignorant of the chairman's action. He said he believed in organization but did not think the wages should be reduced at this time. There are many good workmen in the department who earned all they were being paid, he pointed out. The department needs readjustment and weeding out but wages should not be reduced he maintained.

"The salary of the chairman of the streets and bridges committee also included in the cut," Alderman Vander Heyden asked. "That will be taken up by the council later," the chairman answered.

"Weed out the useless men in the department if there are too many," Alderman Vander Heyden advised, "but do not cut the wages. We should pay the men a living wage at least."

Alderman Steinhauer asked Alderman Vander Heyden what the latter considered a living wage. He said other contractors were paying common laborers 40 cents an hour and that Steinhauer should not pay any more. The matter was referred to the streets and bridges committee for reconsideration.

"SWIM" CAMPAIGN WILL OPEN FRIDAY

More Than 200 Boys Are Enrolled in Classes for This Summer

Friday will be the opening day of the 1927 "Learn to Swim" campaign of the Y. M. C. A., according to A. P. Jensen, physical director. More than 200 boys and a number of men are enrolled, and classes will be held in the morning, afternoon and evening on Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays for two weeks, starting this week. The boys are between the ages of 10 and 17.

The enrollment shows 145 non-swimmers among the boys and 55 swimmers who will take life saving work. The men all are non-swimmers and number about 10. Any more men who desire to join the class need not fill out the enrollment blanks but can report at the association pool directly for the first class. Men's classes will be held at 8 o'clock on Monday, Wednesday and Friday evenings, starting June 6. A business men's swimming class will also be held at 12:15 each Tuesday and Thursday June 10. There is room for several more in this class.

The boys' schedule, which starts June 6 follows:

Non-swimmers, 12 years of age, 9:30 in the morning; non-swimmers 13 years of age, 10:15; lifesavers, 13 and 14 years, 11 o'clock; non-swimmers, 10 years, 3 o'clock in the afternoon; non-swimmers, 11 years, 3:45; lifesavers, 11 and 12 years, 4:30; non-swimmers, 14 to 17 inclusive, 7 o'clock in the evening; lifesavers, 15 to 17 inclusive, 7:30; non-swimmers, men, 8 o'clock.

The enrollment is the largest in several years, according to Mr. Jensen.

FEARS DAMAGE COST

"Damages to the abutting property will be three times as great as the city's share of the actual construction costs and who will pay that bill," Alderman Catlin asked. "Nobody but the city and the tax payers."

"It is foolish to hear anyone arguing for grade crossings," Alderman Thompson said, "when we have all come to realize the value of a viaduct as a dangerous crossing. This is a dangerous crossing and it would be ridiculous for the city to ask the railroad commission to vacate its property especially after we have worked for so many years to convince the commission of the need for the improvement."

"The city's debt in view of the recent bank stock tax decision was pointed to by Alderman Catlin as one of the obstacles to the viaduct. He said the treasury would be depleted next year because of the amount the city must pay the banks, and there would be no money left for foolish improvements like the viaduct."

"The bank stock tax case is being used as an excuse to get out of improvements in too many instances," Alderman Thompson answered. "The city is not forced to pay a large debt in a lump sum. Payment can be spread over a period of years."

"The estimates of the cost of the project are very high and those opposing the viaduct are too high and merely are obstacles placed in the path of the measure by the traction company," Alderman Catlin said his estimates had been received from the traction company engineer and R. M. Connelly, former city engineer.

"After the whole project has been paid for by the city," Alderman Catlin asked, "nothing but a sloppy hole in the ground when the man holes are frozen in spring and a continual expense to the city because of the problem of snow removal. The deep cut will be filled every winter with snow that cannot be dumped aside. This must be hauled away with trucks and will be an everlasting expense to the city."

"There has been only one fatal accident at this corner in the 30 years I have been in Appleton," Alderman Steinhauer said. "We have many crossings more dangerous than the one"

TO BLOCK ORDER FOR NEW VIADUCT

A resolution authorizing the city engineer to take steps to vacate the order of the railroad commission calling for the completion of a viaduct on W. Wisconsin Ave by July 1, 1928, was defeated by the common council Wednesday night by a vote of 7 to 5. Alderman R. P. McGillan, Mark Catlin, Fred Wieso, Mike Steinhauer and W. H. Vander Heyden defended the proposal.

The motion was introduced by Alderman Catlin, who said that as the city's finances are in such a precarious condition and the pavement on Wisconsin Ave probably would not be completed for at least another year, he believed it would be wise for the city to abandon the project. It makes no difference whether the city asks for a postponement or complete abandonment of the project, it is a piece of foolishness at any time, he charged.

"Estimates furnished by engineers place the cost from $100,000 to $150,000," he said. "This does not include damages to abutting properties."

More than $100,000 damages would be required to settle the bill of abutting property owners, and the city treasury could not possibly stand the strain, he believed.

Alderman Thompson called the attention of the council to the fact that the cost of the project would be shared by five different agencies, the city, town of Grand Chute, Wisconsin Highway commission, Wisconsin Traction, Light, Heat, and Power company, and the Chicago and Northwestern railroad. Mr. Thompson charged opponents of the measure with misrepresenting the facts and trying to make it appear that the city would have to pay the entire cost instead of only one-fifth.
